KICK-START YOUR HYPERAUTOMATION JOURNEY WITH AUTOMATION ANYWHERE

Automation Anywhere (AA) is a global leader in Robotic Process Automation (RPA), providing cloud-native, web-based, intelligent automation solutions to some of the world's most successful companies.

Its Automation 360 is a cloud-native, AI-powered, web-based platform for end-to-end automation. It transcends front- and back-office technology silos to automate business processes across all systems and applications, including both SaaS and legacy applications. This enables companies to automate complex manual workflows and processes, reduce human error, and truly unleash the power of hyperautomation.

Apexon combines its expertise in hyperautomation and digital engineering with Automation Anywhere's market-leading platform to accelerate businesses' RPA initiatives and optimize their digital transformation.

THE APEXON & AUTOMATION ANYWHERE PARTNERSHIP
AUTOMATION AT SPEED

Businesses are full of processes that are ripe for automation — manual, repetitive tasks that humans add little or no real value to. RPA can take over this "robotic" work and do it better and faster while ensuring pre-determined quality standards are fully met. And when combined with AI-powered intelligent automation, it enables businesses to reimagine how they operate by seamlessly integrating technology, work processes and people.

Apexon combines its expertise in hyperautomation and digital engineering with Automation Anywhere's market-leading platform to accelerate businesses' RPA initiatives and optimize their digital transformation. Specific offerings include:

- Core RPA implementation
- Process discovery and selection using Discovery Bot
- AI and machine learning-based IQBot
- Front-office automation using AARI
- End-to-end test automation
